It is necessary to have a graduated container with a capacity of at least 2 litres, which can be requested from the laboratory.

To perform the collection correctly:

1. upon waking, discard the first urine of the morning;
2. collect from this moment on all the urine that will be produced in the following 24 hours including the first of the following morning;
3. at the end of the collection, deliver the container used for collection to the laboratory staff.

N.B. During collection the container must be kept cool and dark.
